Park Meadows Cosmetic Surgery Sponsoring Mountain Child Run For Hope 5K

Denver plastic surgeons of Park Meadows Cosmetic Surgery are sponsoring Mountain Child Run For Hope 5K to raise money and awareness for children living in the mountains of Nepal

DENVER, CO, June 15, 2015 /24-7PressRelease/ -- The Denver plastic surgeons of Park Meadows Cosmetic Surgery are sponsoring Mountain Child Run For Hope 5K to raise money and awareness for children living in extremely remote areas of the Himalayan Mountains of Nepal.

The Mountain Child Run For Hope 5K event takes place June 20th at 8:00 a.m. at Stroh Ranch Park, located in Parker, Colorado. The entry fee is $30 and includes the race, an event t-shirt and age group awards. Mountain Child is a nonprofit that focuses on five core issues: health, education, child labor, trafficking and the environment. One hundred percent of the race's proceeds go to supporting the cause.

"We are proud to partner with and support such an important organization," said Denver plastic surgeon Jeremy Williams. "By supporting this race we provide financial resources to children of a developing country that has been recently ravaged by several earthquakes. Engaging in giving back to our community and throughout the world is central to our mission and purpose at Park Meadows Cosmetic Surgery."
